PROGRAM

All times are given in Eastern Standard Time (EST)

Monday, March 20

11 a.m. – noon

Addressing Burnout and Improving Wellbeing: How to Find Your Center

Certified Life Coach, Wellness Consultant, and Mindfulness Facilitator Kim Perone examines the difference between stress and burnout and guides us to understand how to identify our current state and ways to improve our wellbeing, while still accomplishing everything we need and want to do in life.

Kimberly A. Perone, MA, CLC, CWMF, Success, Bereavement & Resilience Coach & Mindfulness Facilitator, The Center for Clarity, Compassion & Contentment, Ballston Lake, NY

1:30 – 2:30 p.m.

Building a Trusting Relationship with a Hoarding Resident

The presentation will cover basic information related to Hoarding Disorder, including the difference between someone who has a lot of clutter and someone who is struggling with hoarding behaviors, health and safety issues, assessment tools, positive communication tips, and harm reduction strategy tips.

Lisa M. O'Neill, DBH, MPH, UA Center on Aging, Associate Director of Education and Policy, UA College of Medicine, Assistant Professor, Geriatrics, General Internal Medicine, and Palliative Medicine, Tucson, AZ

3 – 4:30 p.m.

Medical Expenses, Allowances, and Deductions

This session will cover how to identify, verify, and calculate different types of medical expenses. It will cover potential allowances and deductions that are allowable, including those associated with assistance animals and auxiliary devices, and other types of care assistance.

Rhanda McKown, (HUD Occupancy Specialist, Certified in LIHTC Compliance) Director of Affordable Housing, LeadingAge Florida, Tallahassee, FL

Housing Professionals Webinar Series

March 20 - 24, 2023

Tuesday, March 21

10 – 11 a.m.

U.S. Housing and Urban Development Policy Update

Hear a Federal Region 2 HUD official provide a briefing on policy and procedural updates and changes including those policies that HUD has implemented since the COVID-19 pandemic.

Dean J. Santa, Asset Management Division Director, Multifamily Asset Management – Federal Region 2, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, New York, NY

1:30 – 3 p.m.

Excite and Engage Independent Seniors

As individuals get older, it is not uncommon to notice that they have developed some feelings of indifference toward their normal activities. Daily activities may become more difficult to perform over time, which may leave them feeling less energized or depressed. Although they may require some motivation to stay involved, it is important to find the positivity and encourage them to stay active. Attend this interactive session to gain insight on the interpersonal skills and strategies to encourage and motivate older adults.

Bailie Hillman, OT, LNHA, Certified Dementia Practitioner and Trainer, Consultant, Azle, TX

Wednesday, March 22

11 a.m. – noon

What Senior Housing Providers Need to Know About Cannabis

The program will provide an overview of the current legal landscape of cannabis in New York, which continues to evolve due to significant legal updates on both the state and federal level. Topics to be addressed will include: - An overview of state and federal cannabis laws, analysis of potential financial risk to health care facilities and senior housing communities that permit or support medical cannabis use by residents, and how to mitigate that risk, labor and employment issues , an in-depth discussion of why medical cannabis is effective in the senior community and why there is such a growing demand for cannabis as part of the overall medical treatment plan for senior citizens.

Dana Walsh Sivak, Esq., Senior Counsel, Falcon Rappaport & Berkman LLP, Rockville Centre, NY

1:30 – 2:45 p.m.

Title VI, Marketing, and the Application Process - What Housing Professionals Need to Know

For housing providers receiving federal funding, Title VI of the US Civil Rights Act prohibits denial of an applicant based on race, ethnicity, or national origin and further protects the rights of all individuals to learn about their federally funded housing options. This session will help affordable senior housing program managers understand the scope of housing activities covered by Title VI, review recent federal guidance on the issue, and explore best practices to ensure effective organizational marketing and application policies that comply with Title VI requirements.

Harry J. Kelly, Partner, Nixon Peabody, Washington, DC

Thursday, March 23

11 a.m. – noon

Situations & Strategies

During this solution-focused session, our presenter will discuss service coordination issues you face day-to-day in your organization, such as difficult situations and mental health challenges.

Ruben Rivera Jackman, MNPL, Social Services Coordinator, Human Good, Seattle, WA

Housing Professionals Webinar Series

March 20 - 24, 2023

1 – 2:30 p.m.

Streamlining HUD Certifications

In May of 2020 HUD published a Final Rule finalizing the regulatory language to implement the FAST Act provisions contained in the December 2017 interim. Specifically, this Final Rule amended regulations as it relates to asset verification, utility allowance reimbursements, and triennial income verification. The rule reduces the burden of verifying household assets when determining a household's income upon recertification and also reduces the burden of verifying fixed income sources when determining a household's income upon recertification. This session will provide valuable information relating to the streamlining provision and show how to implement these provisions at a HUD Multi-Family property.

3 – 4:30 p.m.

Conquer Recerts and Interim Recerts

A household's income and household composition must be reviewed and updated at least annually. This annual review is referred to as a "recertification." An "interim recertification" is conducted between annual recerts to account for changes in household circumstances that could affect the tenant's rent portion and the assistance being paid on their behalf. Understanding how these recertifications are handled can be confusing at times to even the most seasoned employee. This session discusses the recertification and interim recertification process from the owner/agent responsibilities to what the tenants have to do in order to stay in compliance.
